Everyone is different ...

With the Thule Guidepost series, we focus on what's important in the wild: ease of use, durability, and the most comfort thanks to a perfect fit.

Carrying heavy loads comfortably over long distances, the key is to transfer the load of the pack to your waist and legs. The rigid yet compact TransHub suspension system has an aluminum stay connected to a firm padded hipbelt ensuring a great load transfer.

2. Torso length adjustments (15 cm)
3. Shoulder strap adjustments

Ski & Snowboard Backpacks Thule Upslope

Bring your skis

For decades we have helped people travel to the mountains. Now we are joining them on the slopes and the backcountry.

Sharing our passion for skiing and snowboarding

You want to be free to feel the snow beneath your feet. That's why, when designing the Thule Upslope, our focus was to make sure your gear is organized and does not interfere with your skiing.

Your gear should be easy accessible to keep your focus on the adventure and to save you time at critical moments. While climbing, water and snacks should be at hand and your skis or snowboard well attached. Going downhill, the bag should keep gear well protected and out of your way.

As tough as the mountain

We've made the Thule Upslope with the highest quality materials, putting it through rigorous testing both in our labs and in the real world.

For the modern business traveler

In 2011, Thule expanded into the luggage category with the Thule Crossover; a series of travel gear targeting the active lifestyle consumer. It was a natural progression for the brand, combining Thule's industry leading engineers with a world class design team. Since its debut, Thule Crossover received numerous accolades including Outside Magazine's Gear of the Year Award (March 2011), International Travel Goods Association 1st place Product Innovation Award (March 2011), and Men's Journal's Gear of the Year Award (December 2012). Taking off from the success of the Thule Crossover, we are very proud to announce a new product line geared towards the modern business traveler.

Thule Legend GoPro® Backpack

Developed and tested with Matthias Giraud

Matthias Giraud, aka Super Frenchie®, is an outstanding performer, always equipped with GoPro® cameras to capture live action footage that goes to the limit and beyond. Knowing better than anyone how unpredictable and challenging nature can be, he prepares for each project by examining every last detail. He makes sure all of his equipment – not just his parachute – is properly packed because that is the key to a successful adventure. Which includes keeping GoPro® cameras and accessories safe and organized.

All of this makes Matthias Giraud the ideal partner for Thule in developing and testing the Thule Legend bags and cases series. The objective? To design the ultimate product in terms of robustness, simplicity, and ease of use. Answering all the needs of pioneering athletes like Matthias, as well as everyday adventurers, by providing the best performing bags on the market.

“The ultimate user input”

Working with Matthias is refreshing! He provides real insight, and you can feel his excitement about creating excellent products. It’s rare to collaborate with someone who has so many great ideas. Besides being an incredible athlete in so many different sports, he is also a very engaging and inspiring work partner.
